OTHER VEGETABLES SURPASS BEANS IN PAST TWO WEEKS

Peas and Cabbage Make Up Increase of Vegetables

BEANS STILL HEAVY

Prices on All Commodities Have Been Fair In Last Month

The Everglades trucking section of Palm Beach county, famed as the principal snap bean district in the United States, is now shipping more solid carlots of other vegetables than it is of beans, although the green bean production has been heavy and will continue to move in normal volume for the time of year. Increase of other commodities has more than equalled the shipment of beans the past two weeks and his provided additional revenue to local growers.

The greatest increase in carlot movement has been of English peas with cabbage as a close second. Potatoes have furnished from one to a dozen cars a week and mixed vegetable loadings have increased.

The fall bean movement, averaging more than 200 cars a week since the first of the season, declined in January to about 100 cars weekly, the decrease being normal for the mid-winter season. Other commodities coming in during the month have held up the total movement to the seasonal average and have exceeded the bean movement in volume.

During the week ending January 3, the bean movement in carlots totaled 117 with other vegetables amounting to 105 cars; in the week ending January 10, beans were 107 cars and other vegetables 104. During the week ending January 17, beans totaled 97 and other vegetables 100 and last week ending January 24, beans were 108 cars and other vegetables 164. Of the 164 cars rolled of other commodities, 71 were peas, 68 cabbage, 20 miscellaneous and the balance were potatoes, tomatoes from Okeechobee and escarole. Lima beans, peppers, eggplant and other crops were included in mixed carlots.

The movement from Thursday, Jan. 25 to Wednesday, Jan. 31 totaled 237 cars of which 94 were beans, 69 peas, 45 cabbage, 23 mixed vegetables, 1 potato and 5 cars tomatoes from Okeechobee.

Prices of beans have been steadied by their restricted movement and fair prices have prevailed on peas, cabbage and other vegetables. Earlier in the season when the total carlot movement was made up entirely of beans, markets were glutted and farmers in the territory experienced losses which have been partly overcome by the recent diversified movement.

ROTARY

The weekly luncheon meeting of Pahokee Rotary Club was featured Thursday noon by an interesting talk by Johnnie Fourmy on the manufacture of sugar. Mr. Fourmy discussed the method of milling cane, following the steps of manufacture from the cutting of the cane to sacking of the crystalized product. Refinery processes were touched on in answering questions of the audience.

W. P. Jernigan, past president, presided at the meeting in the absence of President Joe A. Tolle. Report of the outstanding committee on sidewalk construction was received.

REWIRE LEGION HALL

The American Legion hall at Belle Glade is being rewired this week, the work being done to facilitate control of the lighting system and to replace worn or defective fixtures. T. E. LaByer, local electrician is handling the rearrangement of the lighting system.

Total rainfall since Jan. 1, 1934, 6.13 inches.

New Belle Glade Plant To Increase Capacity For Vegetable Car Icing

Installation of equipment to increase the capacity of the new Florida Power & Light Company ice plant at Belle Glade is to start soon according to plans made since the plant opened a few weeks ago. The improvements will consist of refrigerator systems to cool the water before it is put into the tanks for freezing thereby shortening the freezing time and increasing the capacity of the plant.

The 80-ton plant is to be stepped up in production to take care of icing requirements of Everglades vegetables now being shipped in heavy volume to northern markets.

Plans for increasing the capacity of the Belle Glade plant were announced, following a recent inspection by R. Y. Poole, ice department manager, and A. L. Wooten, chief of the engineering department.

F. C. Elliot Was Visitor At State Prison Farm

F. C. Elliot of Tallahassee, secretary and engineer of the Everglades Drainage District, spent several days at the state prison farm at Belle Glade this week, inspecting the site of a proposed canning plant and syrup mill and going over the engineering features of a farm water treating plant. Mr. Elliot was chief engineer in charge of Everglades drainage several years ago when the district was engaged in active work on main drainage canals.

ANNUAL VISIT TO PAHOKEE CHAPTER TO BE ON MARCH 7

Worthy Grand Matron Postpones Local Visitation

Postponed from Monday, February 5 to Wednesday, March 7, the official visit of Mrs. Leona Faircloth, worthy grand matron Order of the Eastern Star, will be recognized by the Pahokee chapter of the order in an elaborate reception and program in her honor. Mrs. Faircloth of Quincy, executive head of the order, will end her official visits of the year with her appearance at the Pahokee chapter which is slated to be the most important meeting of the season for the local group.

Postponement of the annual visitation was occasioned by the illness of Mrs. M. D. Geiger, worthy matron of Pahokee chapter and it was not until this week that word was received that the change in date was effective.

Special committees were appointed at the meeting Tuesday night of last week to arrange for the annual meeting and the committees are listed as follows:

Entertainment — Mrs. L. L. Speer, Mrs. E. P. Parker, Mrs. T. W. Knight, Mrs. W. G. Smith.

Registration of visitors—Mrs. H. C. Graham, Mrs. L. L. Stuckey, Mrs. L. C. Goolsby.

Buffet supper—Mrs. J. W. Barrett, Mrs. M. F. George, Mrs. W. A. Adams, Mrs. L. C. Goolsby.

Refreshments—Mrs. A. H. Dalton, Mrs. E. P. Parker, Mrs. Ora Powell, Mrs. T. W. Knight, Mrs. J. W. Strickland, Mrs. E. G. Kilpatrick.

Hospitality—Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Stuckey.

Decorations—Mrs. G. C. McLarty, Mrs. J. C. Doolittle, Mrs. C. A. Bailey, Mrs. J. V. Thomas.

Flowers—Mrs. L. C. Goolsby, Mrs. W. A. Adams, Mrs. Cohen Blakey.

Gift—Mrs. H. L. Speer, Mrs. J. W. Barrett, Mrs. M. F. George.

Standing committees appointed were:

Ways and Means—Mrs. G. C. McLarty, Mrs. J. W. Barrett, Mrs. H. L. Speer; Orphans Home—Mrs. L. C. Goolsby, Mrs. D. W. Crocker, Mrs. W. C. Neaves, Mrs. Cohen Blakey; Visiting and Flowers—Mrs. J. W. Barrett, Mrs. J. V. Thomas, Mrs. L. L. Stuckey; Finance and Examination of Books—Mrs. W. G. Smith, Mrs. E. P. Parker, Mrs. C. A. Bailey, L. L. Stuckey; Relief—Mrs. M. D. Geiger, Mrs. W. A. Adams, Mrs. C. C. Arrington, J. W. Barrett; Instruction—Mrs. H. L. Speer, Mrs. M. F. George, Mrs. T. W. Knight; Examination of Visitors—Mrs. H. L. Speer, Mrs. L. C. Goolsby, J. W. Barrett.

COMMISSIONERS WANT GUARD RAIL GLADES ROAD WORK

County Board Appeared Before Road Department Tesday

ROAD 26 IN BUDGET

East Coast Bodies Oppose Road on North New River Canal

Returning from a budget meeting of the State Road Department in Tallahassee Tuesday, County Commissioner Doyle Crocker of Pahokee reported the inclusion of state road 26 in the tentative budget now set up. The inclusion of federal aid work on road 26 from South Bay along North New River canal to Fort Lauderdale was protested by West Palm Beach civic organizations in telegraphic communications to the board of county commissioners but the move failed to gain recognition from the state board. It was reported that the West Palm Beach Chamber of Commerce and the Junior Chamber of Commerce had opposed building of the highway, part of which is in Broward county and leads to the east coast at Fort Lauderdale from the Everglades section of Palm Beach county.

Request was made by the Palm Beach county commissioners for erection of a guard rail along the road canal from Pahokee to Belle Glade and the request was backed by J. R. Beacham, state senator. Appeal was also made for the state road department to recommend inclusion of the cross-state highway (road 25) in a federal aid project. Other Everglades matters to receive attention by the department include resurfacing of state road 25 from six-mile bridge to Belle Glade and the completion of the contract by the state to purchase Conners highway.

No new construction on state roads will be done this year according to press reports from Tallahassee quoting Chairman C. B. Treadway who said the department will have no money to pay for it unless the federal government makes another allocation to the state.

The tentative budget calls for first preference in expenditure of this year's income of $6,000,000 to be given to payment of old obligations which total $2,142,000. Maintenance of roads at a cost of about $4,000,000 will get next consideration, leaving no state funds available for new road construction. Road 26 is said to be a federal aid project and therefore would be given superior consideration in the state road budget.

The road department announced its final budget meeting, when its program for 1934 will be adopted, will be held in Ocala on March 26.

Another meeting will be held in Tallahassee late in February for discussion of the tentative budget, under consideration at sessions this week.

Pahokee Ends Fiscal Year With a Surplus Auditor's Report Shows

The Town of Pahokee wound up the fiscal year ending September 30, 1933 with a surplus of $906.81, according to the recently completed annual audit of the town's financial condition by Himes & Himes of West Palm Beach. The quarterly report for the three months ending December 31, 1933, showed a surplus of $3,632.73.

The annual and quarterly reports of the town are printed elsewhere in this issue as a matter of news to residents.

Postmaster To Close Doors Over Week-End For Floor Refinishing

Lock box patrons of the Canal Point post office will have to get their mail Saturday by 6 p. m. or wait until Sunday morning if they don't want to interfere with the painting of the lobby, Postmaster Harold Rosenberg said today. The front doors of the office will be closed Saturday evening for the painters to give the concrete floor a coat of enamel which is expected to be dry by 10 o'clock Sunday morning. The process will be repeated for a second coat next week-end.

STRONG WINDS BRING RAIN TO EVERGLADES IN FREAK NORTHWESTER YESTERDAY

A freakish squall on Thursday afternoon brought much needed rain over the Everglades area of Palm Beach county and broke what almost amounted to a several weeks drouth.

Farmers have been holding close-in land free of crops until seasonable rains gave promise of sufficient moisture to mature plantings of beans and aside from picking of present crops, farming activities have consisted mainly of preparing land for the spring crop.

Light showers on Monday of this week were insufficient to accelerate planting on the east and south shores of Lake Okeechobee although much land is idle. The rain yesterday will probably cause much planting activity.

Winds blowing from the east and southeast Thursday morning changed after noon to the west and rain clouds swept in from Lake Okeechobee bringing a heavy downpour and strong winds. Thunder and lightning accompanied the rain. The rain clouds were so low, that from a distance they appeared to be smoke or much dust sweeping along the ground.

The rain in cane fields of the U. S. Sugar Corporation at Canal Point ranged from .7 to .9 of an inch and at the cane breeding plant north of town the rain was gauged at 1.10 inches.

NEWS COLUMN IS REGULAR FEATURE

A new feature column in The Everglades News, appearing for the second time in this week's issue, is proving of interest to Everglades residents as well as to federal employees and their families for whom it is being written by Mrs. Marjorie B. Wallace of Pahokee. "Castles in the Glades" gives social news of government engineers and feminine gossip of their wives in an intimate and readable manner. Mrs. Wallace has lived in the Lake Okeechobee territory for about three years where her husband has been engaged in federal work on the levee construction job. The family has lived in Clewiston and Moore Haven, moving to Pahokee six months ago.

Mrs. Wallace is active in social and club activities, following the example of her mother, Mrs. W. F. Blackman of Winter Park, former president of the State Federation of Womens Clubs.

TO CLOSE GATE SITE AT MOUTH OF CANAL

Flow of Water Unobstructed By Channel Around North Side

The clam-shell outfit, digging marl and rock at the Canal Point hurricane gate construction site for the past two weeks, was moved out Wennesnay morning to the Belle Glade job and the steam hammer rig was towed up Wednesday night for closing up the coffer dam at the lake entrance of West Palm Beach canal.

Crews of the E. H. Latham Company began loading sheet piling on barges Thursday in preparation for closing the outlets to the coffer dam later in the week. A channel on the north side of the sheet piling enclosure is to be cleaned out for passage of boats into the harbor and to allow flow of water from the lake into West Palm Beach canal. A similar channel will be dug on the south side of the work site but it will be bridged to allow passage of vehicles to the coffer dam.

Following the closing of the sheet piling enclosure, water inside the line of piles will be pumped out for additional excavation of material to throw up around the work site and to provide a road around the construction site. Pumps have been mounted on platforms at the edge of the basin awaiting shutting off of lake water from the work site.

CHANCEY BAY SCHOOL

A new school house, built with funds from CWA and donations of labor by residents in the community, has been erected south of Chancey Bay and has about a dozen pupils enrolled. The school, which is in Martin county, is about eight miles north of St. Lucie canal on Conners highway and serves the farming community along the lake front.

THANK YOU

Several copies of The Everglades News for December 8th were received following the paper's request for that issue and the management wishes to thank the subscribers who mailed their copies in. One copy was received from Dr. K. V. Allison, Everglades experiment station soils specialist who is now in Washington, D. C., making erosion studies.

LIMAS BEST CASH CROP THIS SEASON

Lima beans are the highest sellvegetable on Everglades local markets in spite of the movement from Cuba, brokers and shippers report. The Cuban movement will continue until April 1 when tariff restrictions shut off supplies from the island.

Limas have been a good crop all winter although few solid cars have gone out, the biggest movement being in mixed cars with other commodities. Prices on limas this week have ranged around $2.50 a hamper and brokers say the spring crop should bring good returns to growers.

Pahokee Radio Broadcast At Miami Is Postponed On Account of Weather

A Pahokee program to have been broadcast over WQAM from the bayfront park at Miami Tuesday evening was called off on account of the cool weather prevailing at the east coast resort city early this week. Town officials had been invited to speak and a musical program had been arranged by Brooks Spann for the broadcast from the open air theatre.

No arrangements have been made to present the program later in the season.

BUZZARD CAUSES FATAL WRECK ON STATE ROAD

Mrs. Helen Goldsmith, about 50, of Tampa, received fatal injuries Sunday when the automobile driven by her husband, Louis Goldsmith, overturned after a buzzard had crashed through the windshield and struck Goldsmith, stunning him.

SOUTH BAY CITIZENS APPROVE ROAD BOARD

Draft Resolution At Meeting On Road 26 Activity

SOUTH BAY, Jan. 25.—An Everglades road meeting was held at the auditorium on Thursday evening in the interests of State Road No. 26 extending from Miami and Fort Lauderdale on the east coast to Lake Okeechobee at South Bay. Representatives were present from the various Glades communities. Dr. Thomas Will of Belle Glade and Fort Lauderdale had charge of the meeting. County Commissioner Doyle Crocker of Pahokee was present and stated that the work at the lower end of the road was now being pushed rapidly to conclusion; that it was being regraded and would be hard surfaced making an A-1 highway. The work now being done is in Broward county which has $75,000 for this purpose. Mr. Crocker also stated that $218,000 was now available for use on this road in Palm Beach county, work to begin at Okeelanta and proceed down the North New River canal 35 miles where it would join with the work now being completed at the other end. This work when completed will give a highway from South Bay to the east coast via the North New River canal, a project which has been agitated for many years.

The meeting, in view of the fact that the State Road Board was to meet in Tallahassee on January 30 at which time the completion of state road No. 26 will be one of the chief issues to be settled, adopted a resolution to the effect that inasmuch as the state board has seen that work on state road No. 26 begun and is now planning on its immediate completion, we desire to express our deep appreciation for their interest in getting the work done and earnestly hope that they will push the road to a speedy completion.

ASK GOVERNOR TO INVESTIGATE CWA COUNTY COUNCIL

Pahokee Civic Organizations Ask Sidewalk Construction

ASK REALLOCATION

Declare East Coast-Glades Allotments are Disproportionate

Protesting against what is declared unjust discrimination against the Everglades in manhour allotment of Palm Beach county CWA work, Pahokee civic organizations communicated with Governor Dave Sholtz Wednesday in an effort to get CWA funds for municipal sidewalk construction and asked for an investigation of the county council. The plea to the governor followed efforts by a Rotary Club committee to get action through the Palm Beach county CWA committee in West Palm Beach on Tuesday.

Mayor L. L. Stuckey of Pahokee is said to have been assured early in January by the state CWA board in Tallahassee that reallocation of funds would be made and that Pahokee was assured of getting the sidewalk project submitted by the town council. The county council is declared to hold the position that there are not enough man-hours left in the Everglades section to take care of the project. In a meeting with the county council Tuesday, J. O. Bowen, an executive member of the county CWA board, is said to have offered a Rotary committee to treat the school building job at Canal Point on the Pahokee sidewalk project, but the offer was declined.

Charge is made by Pahokee residents that the east coast section of the county is receiving an undue amount of CWA funds, out of proportion to unemployment registration as compared to the Everglades section. Protest is also made that Indian mound excavation, a federal project, is being charged to the man-hour allotment of the Glades section.

Following the appointment of a committee from the Pahokee Rotary Club last week to confer with the town council on sidewalk construction the following wire was addressed to Marcus H. Fagg, state executive officer of CWA at Tallahassee on Monday:

"The work on sidewalk project in Pahokee that your board instructed council in Palm Beach to commence at once has not been started. We are insisting that you again instruct them to commence this work at once. There are 630 registered for CWA, 72 working today. Kindly send us copy of your instruction.

"Pahokee Rotary Club Committee—L. L. Stuckey, chairman, B. Elliott, E. G. Kilpatrick, jr."

The following reply was received:

"L. L. Stuckey, chairman Rotary Club Committee, Pahokee, Fla.

"I stated in telegram sent you the 17 administrator Palm Beach county indicates that sidewalks project Pahokee cannot go forward as Pahokee district allotment of man hours has already been consumed in school and road projects and your share in Indian mound project.

"MARCUS C. FAGG,
"Executive Officer CWA."

Wires were filed on Wednesday from the Rotary Club, Chamber of Commerce and by the American Legion to Governor Dave Sholtz. The Rotary communication was as follows:

"Dear Governor—Palm Beach county Council CWA instructed by Marcus Fagg to proceed with side walk Pahokee. Local council advised Mr. Fagg allotment hours used up. On investigation we find out of registration of 1600 in Glades only 140 working this week. West Palm Beach working 2200 men and 450 women out of registration of 2350 when and 500 women. Our registration about one-third of county registration and on allotment of hours about 184,000 out of 1,400,000 hours for county. We feel that local CWA officials and interests in West Palm Beach are causing a discrimination against the Glades. The whole of Indian mound excavations, a federal project, is charged to this area. We have the need here and the registration and according to federal allotment we are entitled to 466,666 man hours. But because we do not have the representation on the council and the political influence we are given no consideration. We feel a reorganization of the county council and a thorough investigation should be made before we request a federal investigation. We were allowed one member on council and according to registration we should have four out of twelve. Your Palm Beach council states that men will be transferred from West Palm Beach out here on our projects to Pahokee, Canal Point and Belle Glade schools which we protest against as we have sufficient and competent labor here for same."

Hendry Potato May Be Larger But It Did Not Cover Much Territory

Hendry county claims the champion sweet potato in the production of an eight-pound tuber grown by L. D. Baldwin of Fort Denaud. The sweet potato came from vines planted in the summer of 1932 and was dug about a month ago. It served as the potato content of seven meals for seven persons, or the equivalent of serving 49 people. The two-year potato was said to be firm and of good quality by Mrs. F. Watts Hall of LaBelle who prepared it for the table.

W. F. Buchanan of Canal Point dug an unusual specimen of sweet potato a year or two ago at his farm north of town, when in cleaning out a fence row he encountered a sweet potato of extreme length. He followed the course of the potato in the ground to a fence post where it turned downward. The post was removed and it was found the potato had grown down to the bottom of the post hole and came up on the other side.

F. O. B. PRICES

Prices on all Everglades grown vegetables, except cabbage, continue fair with active buying. Few cabbage rolling were sold, most of them being shipped for diversion. The price range on Thursday was as follows:

| | |

DEMONSTRATION CLUB ENTERTAINS COUNTY COUNCIL

Visitors Are Escorted To Places of Interest After Meeting

The Pahokee Home Demonstration Club entertained members of the county council last Friday in an all day meeting in the American Legion hall at Pahokee. About 100 ladies, representing clubs from various towns on the east coast and Everglades communities, were present. The east coast visitors came in a motorcade by way of Belle Glade and were welcomed by the club's president, Mrs. J. C. Mock.

The morning was given over to a business session presided over by Mrs. W. H. Rawles of South Bay, council president and was followed at noon by a covered dish luncheon. During the afternoon business session, various committees and chairmen made their reports and the Pahokee club presented an interesting musical program. After the council meeting visitors were escorted to various places of interest in the territory.

Local committees in charge of the day's program included: Registration, Mrs. D. W. Crocker, Mrs. Cohen, Mrs. I. W. Weeks, Mrs. C. A. Yarborough, Mrs. Charles Perkins; decoration, Mrs. W. C. Denton, Mrs. Perkins; tour, Mrs. L. W. Armstrong, Mrs. R. J. Simpson, Mrs. O. B. McClure; program, Mrs. Earl Meredith; hostess to children, Mrs. A. C. Phillips, Mrs. Vesta Calvert; parking, Mrs. Raymond Carruthers, Mrs. W. R. Hatton.

Building Shacks For Big Mound Excavation

A crew of ten men started work building shacks at Big Mound Tuesday in preparation for excavation work in the mound under direction of Smithsonian Institute attaches. The exploration follows unearthing of Indian remains and relics in mounds near Belle Glade and is being done under funds furnished by the Civil Works Administration. Sifting of sand and earth in the Belle Glade mounds has been completed and many specimens of Indian handicraft have been found together with skeletal remains of the savages.

JANUARY SHIPMENTS BREAK ALL RECORDS WITH 1,000 CARS

Solid Carlot Loadings for Year Reach Total of 3,312

SEASON HALF OVER

Other Heavy January Movement in 1932 With 650 Cars

More vegetables have been shipped from the Everglades trucking section of Palm Beach county this season than ever before up to this time of year and if the spring crop produces as much as a third of the produce shipped this fall and winter, all records for production will be broken by the time the farming season ends. Movement from Everglades stations up to Wednesday totaled 3,312 cars.

Increasing steadily in production for the past three years, fresh green vegetables have rolled from the territory with each season surpassing the past until a total of 4,449 cars were recorded at the end of the 1932-33 season. In the 1929-30 season, 1,571 cars were shipped; in 1930-31, 1,528 cars; in 1931-32, 2,061 cars and in 1932-33, 4,449 cars went to northern markets.

The record of 3,312 cars this season since the middle of October, 1933, should be doubled in the succeeding spring months if the season is normal and follows the usual comparative production. The heaviest movement of vegetables ever recorded as shipped from the Everglades was in May of last year when 490 cars were rolled in one week.

The month of January just ending saw all records broken for vegetable production during that month with averages of more than 200 cars a week compared with the highest total of 181 cars in any previous January. Taking the last week in January as an average, production in the past five years for a comparative January week is as follows: 1929, none; 1930, 73 cars; 1931, 14 cars; 1932, 166 cars; 1933, 181 cars; 1934, 237 cars. The heaviest January movement ever recorded for the Everglades was reached Wednesday of this week when 1,003 cars were recorded as having gone out from loading station. The previous January high was in January of 1932 when 650 cars rolled. The mid-winter movement was retarded last year by flooding rains in the previous November.

CONSIDER FARM ANIMALS

Note—An anonymous writer contributes the following timely article on the practice of sanitation among farm animals and fowls:

In view of the wide educational advantages farmers are now enjoying it is surprising to observe how commonly farm animals are kept confined when there is no necessity for it. A mild shelter may provide his cows with no yard and allow them to stand without exercise six or seven months of the year. Let it is known that the exposure of cows to sunlight outdoors improves the quality of milk, producing vitamins which are essential in preventing rickets in children. A humane society reports the case of a bull compelled to stand in a stall until its feet were seriously diseased.

A people still that hold the old-time notion that any place and any food are good enough for swine. Science has pointed out, however, that hogs kept in filthy surroundings and on improper rations cannot compete with those developed in a sanitary environment.

Fowl, confined of necessity during the winter, are in some instances not released when weather conditions warrant, though they are subject to diseases when cooped up from which they are free if able to run about.

A horse, standing idle, becomes highly nervous and some times increases much injury that it is unfit for use.

The husbandman of today realizes that there is profit in sanitation for his animals. Without fresh air, sunshine, exercise and proper food, shelter and rest a high degree of health cannot be obtained. Clean surroundings are also important. Tuberculosis thrives among animals not properly cared for and parasites will attack a poorly-fed and filthy creature sooner than a healthy one.

Generally it is profitable to the farmer to show every consideration for his animals. Humane considerations demand their care and protection regardless of profit.

NOTHING DOING

Because Governor Sholtz looks with disfavor upon it, the plan of Gov. Robert M. Gore of Puerto Rico for colonization of land reclaiming on a small scale, but eventually resulting in colonization of sufficient Puerto Ricans to relieve the over-population of the island and develop the sugar industry in Florida on a major scale. The plan was first announced by Gore in his inaugural address in San Juan on July 1.

A telegram from Washington Thursday asked for an "expression of co-operation" from Governor Sholtz. It was received during his absence, however, and was laid aside for possible answer upon his return from Jacksonville.

Newell said the telephone conversation with Governor Gore was held in the meantime, however.

Sugar production in Florida already is in excess of amounts proposed to be allocated in this state under the Agricultural Readjustment Administration of the federal government; and Governor Sholtz and other state officials made efforts some time ago to have the quota increased to allow for expansion of existing operations.

Steel sheet piling being used for the cofferdam at the mouth of the West Palm Beach canal at Canal Point stood the test of it. F. Harmon, night watchman at the Canal Point school job, back to the early part of the present century and Hoolihan back during the years of 1926 to 1927 Mr. Harmon was a roadmaster for the railway interests in Honduras in the section of Puerto Cortez. The steel rails ran down to the harbor and under the loading sheds. Strange as it might have seemed to some, the rails under the shed rotted or rusted out in short order while those exposed to the elements were preserved in good shape. It seems that the salt water spray which splashed out upon the exposed rails did little damage because rains soon washed away the salt deposits on the rails therefrom while under the shed the salt remained on the rails without benefit of a Saturday night bath or something like that and eventually resulted in destroying the railroad hardware to a degree necessitating replacement.

DEBT READJUSTMENT

Comes announcement from Washington that an active campaign will be waged in the senate during the present session of congress for the adoption of the house bill which would enable hard-pressed municipalities and political subdivisions to declare themselves insolvent and readjust their debts on a capacity to pay. A bill carrying these provisions was introduced by Congressman Wilcox of this district at the special session and passed by the house. The senate refused to act prior to consideration of the measure by its judiciary committee.

It is reported that senate influentials will throw their full strength against the measure which they consider deflationary and out of step with the President's program tending toward inflation of the currency. Senators from the large eastern and mid-western cities, which like many municipalities in Florida are carrying heavy high-cost loads taken on during the beetle boom days, are said to be in favor of a measure of this nature.

The entire proposition reverts to the old story of whether to pay or not to pay. Are municipalities, districts and other subdivisions going to meet in full the obligations of the past? Many, it is certain, can not meet these obligations. This situation becomes clearer year after year. Either some compromise or some concession on the part of the bond holders must be made or something in the nature of repudiation of obligations be brought about through inability to pay on the part of the debtor. Interest and principal has been defaulted in many instances throughout the state. The ability to pay is in reality, what can be paid. Blood cannot be extracted from a turnip and by the same token taxpayers are unable to pay taxes out of proportion to their ability to pay. A general repudiation of bonds would be bad business, but readjustment of liabilities upon ability to pay would doubtless work out beneficially to creditor and debtor alike.

GOVERNMENT BUYS 8,000 ACRES FOREST LANDS IN FLORIDA

GAINESVILLE, Fla.—The purchase of nearly 8,000 additional acres of land in Florida for national forest purposes was recently authorized by the National Forest Reservation Commission. Of this 2,618 acres were for the Osceola National Forest, in Columbia county, 3,450 acres were for the Appalachicola River, and 1,931 acres were for the Choctawhatchee forest in Okaloosa and Walton counties. The total involved a cost of around $25,000.

This acreage was part of a nation wide purchase in 20 states in which 776,378 acres were purchased for national forest purposes. These purchases bring total acquisitions in the Eastern United States to almost two and three quarter million acres, completing about a third of the program which President Roosevelt in June allotted $20,000,000 of Emergency Conservation Work funds.

EXPERIMENTS SHOW NITROGEN FIXATION BY AUSTRALIAN PINE

GAINESVILLE, Fla.—Australian pines are more valuable for windbreak plantings than many other trees frequently used because they rob the soil of less nitrogen, it has become known through studies carried to a successful conclusion by the Florida Agricultural Experiment Station. In fact, the tallest pines of this family were found to gather plant food for themselves.

Fixation of nitrogen in the nodules found on the roots of these trees was established by the experiments, recently finished. In the capacity thus to collect fertility from the air, Australian pines resemble leguminous plants.

Vigorous growth can be maintained by the Australian pines, in dune sands and other soils of low fertility, without the aid of applied nitrogenous plant food. They may even release some nitrogen for nearby vegetation.

When these pines were found placed immediately adjacent to citrus trees, close enough for the roots to intermingle, injury was confined to mechanical damage in the branches and the effect of too dense shading.

Discoveries made in the Australian pine work have been printed by Soil Science magazine, in an article from the pen of Professor Harold Mowry, who directed the effort.

BOSTON.—"The key is in the mailbox," wrote Jack Wolfe, of Roxbury, and he left the note at the front door when he went out for a short time, expecting a friend to call in the meantime. When Wolfe returned he found the friend on the front steps. There was no key. Bandits had found the note, entered the apartment and ransacked it, making off with clothing, cash and a typewriter, valued at $220.

Hon. L. L. Stuckey, Mayor; Hon. Robt. S. Coughlin, Auditing Agents of the Town of Pahokee, Florida, in view of Mssrs. Byrd, Byrd & Colley, we beg leave to state that we have examined the books of account of the Town of Pahokee, Florida, for the Fiscal Year ended September 30, 1933, and would submit the following findings:

CASH

We counted the cash in the custody of the Town Clerk and found it correct as regards belonging to the subsequent fiscal year.

BANK OF PAHOKEE

In our reconciliation of the bank account with the books, we discovered an overdraft in the bank in the amount of $24.05, which was taken care of in future deposits.

CHECKS

The checks issued by the Town Clerk and countersigned by the President of the Council, were examined as to authority and endorsement and found in order with the exception of a few, checks which had been cashed by the bank at their face, without the counter signature of the President of the Council. This oversight was immediately corrected.

TAX COLLECTIONS

The duplicate receipts given for the payment of taxes were checked with the cash received and the tax roll. With the exception of a few minor errors, easily explained and corrected, we found the collections in order.

TOWN COURT DOCKET

In examining the Court Docket for the Town, we found the following:

June 16, 1933. Town of Pahokee vs. Mr. Moody, charged with operating a motor vehicle causing a wreck. There was no record for this case and it should be cleared up in order to have a clear record.

July 11, 1933. Town of Pahokee vs. Antonio Martinez, charged with fighting. There is no trial record of this case and it should be cleared up.

September 22, 1933. Town of Pahokee vs. Anna Mae Alexander, fine of $5.00 and cost to be paid before 5 p. m. this date. The prisoner was released without payment of the fine by the Town Clerk.

September 27, 1933. Town of Pahokee vs. W. H. Harrison, charged with doing business as Wholesale and Retail Dairy without license within the corporate limits of the Town of Pahokee. This case has been appealed and the defendant is under bond.

INCOME AND EXPENDITURES

The items of the within schedule of Income and Expenditures have been checked by us and found correct. It is gratifying to note that the receipts exceed the expenditures in the amount of $4,786.83, less depreciation expense charged off in the amount of $2,551.91. Still with the outstanding accounts and notes payable it will be obligatory upon Town authorities to practice rigid economy.

BALANCE SHEET

We have furnished the Town Clerk with the necessary adjustments and journal entries to close his books so that they will reflect the within Balance Sheet as at September 30, 1933. The amount set up for Depreciation reserve is in accord with the rate as given.

ANALYSIS OF SURPLUS

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Excess of Income over Expenditures | | $4,786.53 |
| Less: Depreciation ex- | | |
| Surplus, Deficit | 2,551.911,227.81 | 3,879.72 |
| Surplus, September 30, 1933 | | $ 906.81 |

In conclusion we would state that we found the books kept in a neat and orderly manner, for which we feel that you gentlemen are to be congratulated.

We are of the opinion that the within Balance Sheet reflects the financial standing of the Town of Pahokee, as at September 30, 1933.

January 12, 1934

To the Honorable President and Members of the Town Council, Pahokee, Florida.
Gentlemen:

In accordance with our understanding with the Town Council, we have examined the cash and other transactions of the Town of Pahokee, for the months of October, November and December, 1933.

We examined all checks as to signature and endorsement, and as in our report of November 30, where we stated that the Bank of Pahokee had been making checks issued by the Town without the counter-signature of the President of the Council thereon, we find that the bank is continuing to do this. We recommend that the Town Council pass a resolution warning the bank not to accept any checks without the countersignature of the President of the Council thereon, that, in the future, such checks will be dishonored by the Town.

In checking the Court Docket, we find that in several of the cases the defendant has been released upon the promise of payment of the fine within the near future. We suggest that such fines be collected as soon as possible.

In re the H. Gold account of $312.74, which appears upon the Town's books as an asset, we suggest that this account be charged off to Surplus, as it represents an expense of a prior year.

We would suggest that the building of the new Water Works plant, an ample office be constructed to take care of the additional business of the Town. Additional furniture, such as adding machines, etc., will be necessary.

We find that the Town Clerk, Mr. W. H. Larrimore, has carried on the transactions of these months in an excellent manner, and that the books have a neat and orderly appearance. With the exception of a few minor errors, easily explained and corrected, the books were found in order.

We believe the attached Balance Sheet reflects the financial condition of the Town of Pahokee, as at December 31, 1933.

Respectfully submitted,
HIMES & HIMES,
Certified Public Accountants.

"BEDSIDE" DISCLOSES AMAZING ADVENTURES OF PSEUDO-PHYSICIAN

An unusual theme, involving the adventures of a handsome and magnetic rogue masquerading as a famous surgeon, was hit upon by First National Pictures for its production of "Bedside," which opens at the Prince Theatre on Sunday.

The masquerader, played by Warren Williams, has a way with women, which, with a keen propensity for getting his name before the public by unique, if unethical methods, wins him tremendous success in the profession. In fact, it is this way with women, together with his passion for hard liquor and the gaming table, that is responsible for his dismissal from a medical school.

He confines his practice largely to the fair sex, flirting outrageously with his patients as well as his nurse, who condones his faults because she is deeply in love with him. He crashes the front page headlines with his miraculous surgical operations, all of which are false, and even has the medical profession fooled for a time. His crowning achievement is in making a grand opera star believe that he has not only saved her voice but her life, whereupon she promptly falls in love with him."

But retribution comes when he is faced with a real operation, with other surgeons looking on, and an operation upon his nurse with whom he is really in love. This brings a smashing climax to a picture that is full of exciting as well as amusing incidents.

Two new actresses of unusual promise will be seen in the leading feminine roles of "Bedside." Jean Muir, who was brought to Hollywood from the New York stage just a few months ago, showed such talent after playing in but three pictures, that she was given the principal lead opposite Warren William as the nurse. It is claimed by studio photographers that she has the perfect camera face, one of elusive charm and unusual beauty.

Kathryn Sergava is the other newcomer to the screen, although she was famous on the ballet stage with Mordkin. This fiery redheaded Russian, a woman of dangerous and smouldering passions, plays the role of the temperamental opera star who falls in love with her doctor.

DRAMATIC CLUB

The Canal Point Dramatic Club held its regular meeting Monday evening at 8 o'clock. The meeting was called to order by Alton Jones, president, who led in a business discussion. The matter of by-laws and regulations was brought up and steps were taken to get them in proper order. Refreshments were served and the meeting adjourned at 9 o'clock.

Mrs. A. A. Fenn is spending several days with her daughter in Savannah, Ga.

Mr. and Mrs. Leavy Deal were recent house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Olin Cowart, spending several days in Canal Point on their return from Miami where they were married the day before. The couple left early this week for Wauchula where they will make their home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Hooks and Mr. and Mrs. A. Q. Howell spent Sunday on the edge of the Glades south of Clewiston and enjoyed an outdoor dinner of swamp cabbage, quail and other delicacies. Mr. Cox killed a six-foot rattler and Mr. Hooks killed one three feet long.

Adams Brothers Build And Move To New Shop

Lon and Morris Adams are having a new barber shop building erected between Bob's Cafe and the Canal Point Recreational Hall near the bridge at Canal Point and will move their equipment to the new site as soon as it is completed. The new building is of frame construction, measuring approximately 16x22 feet. The Adams brothers have been engaged in the barber business in Canal Point for many years, Lon having operated two or three shops of his own. Morris having joined him in a partnership a year or two ago.

Waterways Surveys Are Scheduled In County

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Surveys of five waterways projects in the fourth district will be undertaken immediately by army engineers, as the result of resolutions passed this week by the house rivers and harbors committee on motions presented by Representative J. Mark Wilcox of the 4th Florida district. The five projects are:

Canal from the St. Johns river through Lake Harney and Lake Washington to the Indian river near Titusville, re-examination of Port Everglades harbor with a view to reversing unfavorable report submitted by army engineers last summer, a 200 foot turning basin and anchorage in Lake North between Palm Beach and West Palm Beach, harbor and turning basin at Eau Gallie, harbor and turning basin at Courtenay on Merritt Island in Brevard county.

Passage of the resolutions by the house committee represents a short cut to beginning of the actual surveys, Representative Wilcox explained, pointing out that the usual practice requires the surveys to be included in regular rivers and harbors bill. Long delays often result before the bill gets through congress.

BENEFIT BRIDGE

Seven tables were in play at the Contract-Auction benefit bridge held by the Canal Point Womans Club in the club house Tuesday evening, three tables of contract and four of auction. High auction prizes were awarded to A. H. Hamrick, a ham; Mr. McCord, five gallons of gasoline; Mrs. A. Clark Haley, basket of groceries; Mrs. McCord, theatre passes. Contract prizes went to Jess Elliott, a ham; Mrs. Rich, five gallons of gasoline; Mrs. H. L. Speer, pressing shop credit; Mrs. George Kingsley, pair of hose. The prizes were donated to the Womans Club by Hickerson's grocery, Hudson Mercantile Co., Pat Carroll, Olin Cowart of Canal Point pressing shop, Tolly Youngblood, Bailey's and The Surprise Store.

Refreshments of sandwiches and tea were served.

MRS. COLSON ENTERTAINS

Mrs. J. F. Colson entertained with a contract bridge party Tuesday afternoon at her home on Bacom Point road in Pahokee in honor of Mrs. Jesse Trimble, house guest of Mrs. A. Hansen. Three tables were in play and high score prizes were awarded to Mrs. Gertrude Colby and Mrs. L. C. Goolsby. Mrs. Trimble was presented with a guest prize. Refreshments of fruit salad, toasted marshmallows on saltines and iced chocolate were served. Those present were Mrs. G. L. Sims, Mrs. C. G. Coburn, Mrs. P. M. Hoenshel, Mrs. Gertrude Colby, Mrs. L. L. Shirley, Mrs. R. C. McLarty, Mrs. A. Hansen, Mrs. Jesse Trimble, Mrs. Wardwell, Mrs. Rich, Mrs. Boyd, Mrs. Marjorie Wallace, Mrs. Deckman, Mrs. L. C. Goolsby.

TRAINING GOOD ANIMALS NOT ENOUGH

MOST parents seriously attempt to be good animals. That is to say, from the standpoint of the physical care of our children we do pretty well in most particulars. Not many children starve; most are at least occasionally bathed and many still "castor oiled." Mothers do provide reasonably suitable clothes and seek with a positive irritation for the black ringed neck and the finger nails "in mourning."

Most youngsters are fairly well schooled as such schooling goes. They can read and scribble and spell (sometimes). They can sing and dance and find amusement, but when it comes to that much more significant wise training and direction of the emotional self, it almost makes one shudder to realize the unfortunate effects average parents with the best of intentions have upon the emotional unfoldment of their children, because they know no better!

Mothers who are scrupulously careful about proper food, sufficient milk and vegetables, who would be horrified to find their precious child in soiled "undies," are often essentially responsible for a type of emotional environment in the home in those early days of youth, which, in spite of excellent physical care, gives society neurotic, irritable, nervous, inadequate boys whose chances at normal adjustment out in a big busy, selfish, thoughtless society, are pretty slim.

Physical care is basic and absolutely necessary. We would not substitute something else for it. Wise and plenty feeding and sane and sensible clothing are essential to physical health and well being and custom and common sense provide for them pretty well. Good schooling, plenty of books and wise and proper play are all essential and there is room for much improvement in all these lines; but all of these combined do not take the place of or substitute for a rational emotional training, which is the very greatest need of youth, and of us all today; a fact which is more and more evident as the whole problem of personality adjustment is better understood.

On every hand, many astounding things are being said concerning the obvious short-comings of parents and teachers and workers with youth, and there is as yet such a complete lack of understanding among even the most intelligent folk in regard to the emotional development of young boys, coupled frequently with the idea that we already know it all and are doing a good and satisfactory job, that it will take a tremendous campaign of education to open our eyes to the perfectly marvelous unguessed possibilities of youth when once we know better how to train wisely and effectively this hidden self, the emotion. The significant fact after all, is that it is essentially a home job. It must be done before school and work and social contact begins, so that it is essentially up to parents.

Developing good animals is not enough.

LEVEE PROJECT IS DEPENDENT UPON CONGRESS

Bacom Point to St. Lucie Canal Sector is Involved

Construction of the federal levee section from Bacom Point to St. Lucie canal, called for in the original Lake Okeechobee flood control plan, is dependent on its inclusion with other projects in the program of appropriations recommended by army engineers to the new congress now in session. The new appropriations would provide funds to finish the remaining 14.9 miles of levee section on the east shore of the lake and to complete other work now under contract.

Of the $6,629,080 asked for by the engineers, $2,852,500 would be allotted to completion of 12.4 miles of levee between Bacom Point and Miami canal, 18 miles between Moore Haven and Fisheating creek and construction of 14.2 miles of levee between Bacom Point and St. Lucie canal. The remainder of the appropriation would provide for floodway excavation in the Caloosahatchee valley, lock and spillway, construction, levee and navigation channel work between Kissimmee river and Nubbin slough, dredging of Taylor creek near Okeechobee and other navigation projects along the northern shore of Lake Okeechobee.

Work is now under way on all sections of the original flood control plan with the exception of the Bacom Point-St. Lucie canal stretch, contract being withheld on that portion because funds were unavailable to carry on the work.

All of the new work recommended by the engineers if provided for by congress, is scheduled to be started this year and are set out in detail as follows:

Complete remainder of 12.4 miles of levee and navigation channel along the south shore of Lake Okeechobee, between Bacom Point and Miami canal, $497,250; complete remainder of 18 miles of levee and navigation channel between Moore Haven and Fisheating creek, $88,550; complete remainder of 14.9 miles of levee and navigation channel along the east shore of Lake Okeechobee, between Bacom Point and St. Lucie canal, $2,266,700.

Begin about March, 1934, under contract, the dredging of about 20 miles of floodway and navigation channel between Moore Haven and Fort Thompson, $761,250; begin about July 1934, under continuing contract the dredging, of 41 miles of floodway and navigation channel in the Caloosahatchee river, between Beautiful island and Fort Thompson, $1,000,900; begin about July 1934, under contract, the construction of hurricane gate structure No. 1 (lock and spillway at Moore Haven), $367,000; begin about July, 1934, under contract, the construction of lock and spillway, near Ortona on the Caloosahatchee canal, $300,000; begin about July, 1934, under contract the construction of 17 drainage spillways on the St. Lucie canal, $376,000.

Begin about July, 1934, under contract the construction of 15 miles of levee and navigation channel along the north shore between Kissimmee river and Nubbin slough, $1,237,500; begin about July, 1934, under contract, the construcoi nof a hurricane gate structure at Taylors creek, $213,000; begin about July, 1934, under contract, the construction of five drainage culverts through levee along north shore, $156,250; begin about July, 1934, under contract, the dredging of Taylors creek between Lake Okeechobee and Okeechobee City, $60,900, and engineering and contingencies, $935,000.

REV. KING TO HOLD REVIVAL

Evangelist Lloyd L. King, who is to begin revival services at Belle Glade, Feb. 4, and to continue through two weeks, is one of the most unusual men in that field of christian work. Returning from service in the World War, Canadian Field Artillery, he was converted; six months later he was leading music for some of the best known evangelists in the south. Before long, churches began to invite him to preach their revivals. Since that time his services have been in constant demand.

Evangelist King is known also as a worker with boys and girls. He speaks, it is said, to more young people than any other man in the work. In Ocala, he had an average daily attendance of over 700 youngsters at his afternoon "story telling hour." He will hold a story hour at Belle Glade.

The evangilistic methods and sermons of this man are sane and scriptural. For results, he places great dependence upon the Bible and the power of God. People of all denominations are invited to attend the revival.

Picturesque "Team"

The Russian troika was a team of three horses abreast, which drew the vehicle. Emma Cochran Pondfidine describes it in "Russia, My Home." She says that the middle horse is always the heaviest in build and a fast trotter, never allowed to break into a gallop. He is harnessed in shafts, the ends of which are kept up by a high yoke rising above the animal's head and from which a bell is hung. The side horses are of lighter build and are taught to gallop, each curving his head outward and back.

Houses for the Soul

To get peace, if you do want it, make for yourself nests of pleasant thoughts. None of us yet know, for none of us have been taught in early youth what fairy palaces we may build of beautiful thoughts—proof against all adversity—bright fancies, satisfied memories, faithful sayings, treasure houses of precious and restful thoughts that cannot disturb, nor pain, make gloomy, nor poverty take away from us—houses built without hands for our souls to live in.—John Ruskin.

CONTRACT CLUB

The Canal Point Contract Club met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. L. L. Shirley at Pahokee with two tables in play. Mrs. Boyd filled in for an absent member. Mrs. G. L. Sims was awarded prize for high score and refreshments of ambrosia and cookies were served.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mrs. J. F. Pyles of Belle Glade entertained several friends Tuesday evening in honor of her husband's birthday, segving dinner to about a dozen guests, following which the entire party enjoyed a show at the Everglades Theatre.

CANAL POINT SCHOOL

Examinations were given throughout the school Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. Most of the children felt that they made good on their tests. If your child's report card does not come out today, then it will be given him on Monday.

A new school building in Canal Point looks more like a reality every day. About a score of piling have been set this week. It surely looks mighty good to the boys and girls who have had to use the old buildings on the grounds for so long. They are mighty happy to see the work moving along so rapidly. They only wish that the work could move along faster.

Each grade is expecting to win the P.-T. A. banner next Monday. So all parents should attend P.-T. A. next Monday to make these children happy. And too, there will be something definite announced about the losing side of the P.-T. A. contest.

NEWS FROM THE GRADES

FIRST GRADE

Mrs. J. G. Weeks, our room mother, visited us Wednesday afternoon. She brought us some home made candy.

We have a new girl in our room, Pashi Luke from Georgia.

SECOND GRADE

We have two new pupils this month, Annie Ruth McCoy, who entered Jan. 2, and Madalen Drake, who entered the 20th.

Mrs. Day visited our room Friday. We learned Wednesday how to set the dishes were made. Several pupils are becoming interested in clay modeling and we regret that we do not have adequate material.

THIRD GRADE

Our room mother, Mrs. Gilliand, visited us today and brought us some fruit and candy. We appreciate this very much. We are making Eskimo booklets in geography now.

We are anxious to win the banner for P.-T. A. attendance this month. Won't our mothers please come out and help us to win?

FOURTH GRADE

We are indeed glad our examination is over. Now, we just hope we all passed them.

We have been studying about Charles A. Lindbergh, whose birthday is Feb. 4. He has had some experience as a flyer. He is still adding to his trophies. In fact, he has so many that a number of them have been placed in a museum at St. Louis. We are enjoying his autobiography, "We."

We didn't forget our president's fifty-second birthday Wednesday. We took some time, to talk about him. He is the most popular president who has lived. We wish for him many more happy birthdays.

We, who had never seen a rattlesnake, saw one Monday. Our teacher also took up a lesson on snakes in our Nature Study. We saw the snake through the courtesy of Mr. Cox, who killed it.

We appreciate our room mother, Mrs. W. E. Wilson, sending us a nice treat of candy. Only wish she could have visited us. "By the by" we want to win the "P.-T. A. attendance banner" again so please come out to the P.-T. A. Monday night, Feb. 5 at 7:30. We are depending on you.

We wish Ronald Hand from our class and wish for him a speedy recovery.

FIFTH GRADE

With a big sigh of relief, the semester exams are done. We little folks have to work very hard to prove that we have learned our bit.

It is hard to say who is the most polite boy in our room. Every boy takes off his hat in line and when he meets the teacher. Now, boys, why not raise your hats to us girls, too?

Jane Sims was first in the arithmetic test last week; Tiny Todd was second, and Ellis Wilkinson third.

Our class had a candy treat last week. Guess why?

We are all getting the Valentine spirit, and are making hearts and arrows. Some of the boys are making automobiles of bright colors and nifty styles. Well, a nice automobile would be a nice Valentine.

Carolyn Jane Hudson and Vera Simmons tied in a spelling contest last Friday. Both were uncertain how to spell "delicate" after they had spelled down the rest of the class.

We are so glad to have Gene Barwick back in school after an absence of two days. Gene is one of our best students.

We enjoy the mottoes which Mr. Cox writes on our blackboard each week. One of the best, which we all learned was: "Politeness is to do and say the kindest thing in the kindest way." This week's motto about reliability is good, too. We want to be reliable.

Gene Chauncey gave us the class name, "Live Wire." Our teacher says we are live wires, but we must also be reliable and polite.

SIXTH GRADE

Mrs. Day visited our room Friday afternoon and treated all with Baby Ruths. The following pupils have a perfect attendance record for the first half of the year: Francis Cross, Everett Day, Jerry Geiger, Letha Mae Walls, Freddie Hooks, Marie Gaskins, Martha Arnold, Elmer Maxson and Newton Hendry.

We are glad to have Lillian Smith back after an absence of two weeks. We are happy to be through with our semester exams.

SEVENTH GRADE

The seventh grade had chapel program last Friday. We had readings from Burns, Longfellow, Fields, and Rileys poems. J. W. Jones sang a song.

We have had our exams and we hope that all of us passed.

We are glad to have Eloise Geiger back with us again. She has been ill.

EIGHTH GRADE

In our history exam Wednesday, Mr. Cox asked the question: What does L. E. J. stand for? Dwight Eyerson's answer was: "Lief Erickson's Journey." Well, well, he was all-wrong, for it stood for Legislature, Executive, and Judicial. Anyway, Dwight, got the letters in order. But Charles thought it was one of those alphabets of the New Deal administration, so he looked all over the bulletin board where the alphabet is posted, trying to find L. E. J. Maybe Gen. Hugh E. Johnson, of the "N. R. A." could explain these letters to Charles.

ASHLEY DEWEY DIXON, JR.

Funeral services for Ashley Dewey Dixon, jr., 14 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Dixon, who was drowned Saturday afternoon, were held Monday afternoon with the Rev. J. O. Jameson of the Community Methodist church officiating.

Mrs. Frank Kelly, Mrs. George Rawls, G. I. Evans and W. L. Cunningham sang "Safe In the Arms of Jesus" and other songs as school mates and friends gathered to pay the last sad tribute to the lad who was so well loved by the men and women of the community, as well as by his associates of his own teen age. The honorary pall bearers were John Greer, Frank Householder, Adrian Deane, Junius Harris, Ellison Watson and Donald Tener, all fellow Boy Scouts, with Scoutmaster Ben Sweeting in charge. Active pall-bearers were Frank Dooley, Ralph Kirk, Bluford Prescott, George Eggleston, Shepard Gordin, and August Kirchman, school mates and intimate friends. Other school mates carrying flowers were Miss Marjorie Harris, Miss O'Delle Rawls, Miss Virginia Greer, Miss Martha Eggleston, Miss Betty Sanders, Miss Marcelyn Creech, Rob-Zadaney, Buddy Lutz, Fred Sargent, Robert CCreech, Roy Francis Majors, Robert Jones, David Gordin, Franklin Kelly, Tommy Parker, Howard Douglas, Francis Morris, Ernest Motes, Leslie Pyle and William Hinton.

Aside from his activities in other sports, Dewey was a member of the Junior American Legion baseball team of 1933, a member of the Boy Scouts, Palm Beach County Council, Troop 22, and a very ardent member of the 7-B Circle, the Sunday school class of Mrs. W. W. Miller.

A large delegation of friends accompanied the body to West Palm Beach where it was laid to rest in Woodlawn cemetery with Boy Scouts in charge of the ceremony.

Besides his parents, Dewey is survived by a brother, Linwood, a sister, Betty, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Dixon of Wadley, Ga.

LADIES AID

The Ladies Aid of the Community Methodist church enjoyed a most interesting bi-monthly meeting on Jan. 24 with Mrs. K. B. Lutz and Mrs. W. D. Tidwell as hostesses. The program opened with a son and scripture verses by all. This was followed by a reading, "Life's Highway," by Mrs. J. O. Jameson. Another reading, "Thoughts for the New Year" was given by Mrs. Charles Beck. Mrs. W. W. Miller read "How Can a Woman Tithe?" This was followed by "Cranberry Migrates" which was read by Mrs. R. W. Kidder. All joined in the song "Jesus Shall Reign." Mrs. J. R. Neller read "Uncle Sam's New Shoes," and Mrs. C. P. Springer gave a missionary reading. The program closed with the Ladies Aid song by all, and the benediction. A delicious dessert course was served by the hostesses. Those present were: Mrs. E. W. Stallings, Mrs. W. W. Miller, Mrs. Charles Beck, Mrs. Maude Thompson, Mrs. E. A. Cook, Mrs. L. B. Cook, Mrs. H. C. Wilson, Mrs. C. W. Ogle, Mrs. J. O. Jameson, Mrs. J. R. Neller, Mrs. R. A. Freeman, Mrs. W. D. Tidwell, Mrs. R. W. Kidder, Mrs. K. S. Lutz, Mrs. E. C. Lutz, Mrs. T. C. Reese and Miss Lillie Maude Hartline, members; Mrs. CC. P. Springer, Mrs. Joe Simmons and Mrs. S. G. Parker, visitors.

The Ladies Aid will observe the world's day of prayer at the parsonage from 10:30 a. m. to 3 p. m. on Feb. 16.

AUCTION CLUB

Mrs. Henry Stoltenburg entertained the Auction Club with a delightful party Friday afternoon at her home. The rooms were attractively decorated with fresh cut garden flowers. Top score prize was awarded Mrs. Bayless and second to Mrs. Jones. A delicious salad course was served by the hostess. Those present were Mrs. James O. Darden and her house guest, Mrs. J. J. Bayless of Knoxville, Tenn., Mrs. Lawrence Will, Mrs. Luther Jones, Mrs. Curtis Thompson, Mrs. J. F. Sheldon, Mrs. Joe Freedlund and Mrs. G. R. Townsend.

7-B CIRCLE PARTY

The 7-B Circle, Sunday school class of Mrs. W. W. Miller, entertained with a most delightful party at the parsonage Friday evening, honoring the Misses Elizabeth Ruth and Mary Jameson. The rooms were bright with vases of cut flowers. Jolly indoor games were much enjoyed. Miss Mary Jameson delighted the crowd with a number of her amusing readings. Later the party moved out to the beautiful lawn which George Boyd-ston had decorated with strings of bright electric lights. Here several games and contests were engaged in. Later a big camp fire was built and a weiner roast followed. Those who attended were Miss Elizabeth Jameson, Miss Ruth Jameson, Miss Mary Jameson, Miss Marjorie Harris, Miss Odelle Rawls, Miss Ethel Manes, Miss Betty Sanders, Miss Martha Eggleston, Miss Alyce Boles, Miss Annetta Dunn, Miss Lillie Mae Martin, Fred Sargent, Robert Zadaney, Donald Tener, Robert Creech, Frank Householder, John Greer, Ellison Watson, Burrell Altman, Adrian Daane, Robert Jones, Billy Weeks, Leelon Bacon, Ralph Kirk, Bluford Prescott, Andy Andy, Charles Lutz, Maurice Lamb, Ben Sweeting, Rev. and Mrs. J. O. Jameson and Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Miller.

CONTRACT

Mrs. James Ball, jr., entertained the members of the Belle Glade Contract Club with a delightful party Thursday afternoon at her home on Avenue A. Vases of cut flowers decorated the rooms. After the first three rounds a delicious salad course was served, then the game was resumed. Mrs. Woodward won high score and Mrs. Ivan second. Those playing were Mrs. Jack Keesee, Mrs. W. H. Vann, Mrs. Norman Starling, Mrs. Robert Creech, Mrs. George Woodward, Mrs. Otis G. McWhorter, Mrs. Ramsey Black and Mrs. Ball.

P.-T. A. ASSOCIATION

The Parent-Teachers Association entertained with a reception Friday evening at the school with Mrs. Allen Greer, Mrs. Frank Kelly, Mrs. W. D. Tidwell, Mrs. George Williams and Mrs. R. E. Freeman on the hospitality committee. Much talent was displayed in the delightful musical program which was as follows:

Vocal solo, Miss Shelly. Coates.
Vocal solo, Roscoe Braddock.

TUBERCULAR CLINIC

Miss Louwilla Honaker of West Palm Beach visited Belle Glade Tuesday and at the noon hour announced that Dr. W. A. Claxton of the State Board of Health will be in Belle Glade on February 9 at 9:30 o'clock to examine all tuberculosis patients. He has requested that all patients get in touch with their local physician, and through him make an appointment.

NEW BRIDGE CLUB

The newly organized Wednesday Bridge Club was entertained with a most delightful party last Wednesday by Mrs. A. F. Wilson at her home near Chosen. Two tables were in play during the afternoon. High score prize was awarded to Mrs. H. F. Stevens and Mrs. Earl Carter received the consolation. A dessert course was served after the game. Those who played were Mrs. Pete Bussart, Mrs. Earl Carter, Mrs. Mark Moore, Mrs. Al Stevens, Mrs. W. H. Motes, Mrs. Jack Williams, Mrs. H. F. Stevens and Mrs. Wilson.

MRS. W. H. HUNT DEAD

Funeral services for Mrs. W. H. Hunt of Moore Haven were held Tuesday morning at the Pahokee Funeral Home with the Rev. H. F. Tolle of Lake Wales and the Rev. Joe Tolle of Pahokee officiating. Several songs were sung by Terry Driggers, Adolph Driggers and E. Messer.

The Pallbearers were R. Y. Creech, Joe Friedheim, Lawrence Will, H. Gordin, Ernest Stallings and Bruce Morris. Burial was in Mayaca cemetery.

Mrs. Hunt is survived by her husband, W. H. Hunt, and son W. H. Hunt, jr.

LADIES' AID BOX SUPPER

The Ladies Aid of the Community Methodist church gave a most enjoyable box supper at the club house Wednesday evening. Interesting games and contests were engaged in. Later the boxes were opened and the delicious contents were served with hot coffee. The gentlemen present gave very generous cash contributions to the church building fund. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Kidder, Rev. and Mrs. J. O. Jameson, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Neller, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Reidel, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Reid, Miss Mary Jameson, Miss Ruth Jameson and Herbert Beck.

CHURCH BUILDING FUND

Over $1,900.00 has already been paid or pledged to the church building fund. The amount required is $2,500.00. Donations of any amount will be greatly appreciated, so it is hoped that the community will rally to this worthy cause and contribute the balance needed to build a church which everyone may be proud of, and a house of God in which to worship. The Community church at present is holding services at the club house. On Sunday, the 4th, the Rev. J. T. Stretton, pastor of the Allapattah Temple, in Miami, will deliver the address here.

CASTLES IN THE GLADES

By Marjorie B. Wallace.

For the plaudits and the encomiums, the acclaim and the laudation, the panegyrics and the eulogies, I thank you. No less do I thank you for the criticisms, which were constructive and helpful and in many cases amusing. For instance, Tish Tardwell wanted to know with blood in her eye why I had intimated she was to blossom out in new gowns because she had been seeing a lot of good-looking men! So I hasten to inform you-all that Tish got paid in good coin of the realm for that investigation, which I hope clears up that point. I mean, the Research Bureau paid her.

Quite a few new men and transfers to report this week.

Inspector William A. Ryan, "Paddy" to most of us, is back on the job after a sojourn on the St. Johns river work. There is one square-shooting little guy; on the job every minute, day or night, as Irish as his name, and mighty popular with government men and contractors.

Inspector Hodges, formerly with the McWilliams job, and before that with the Sugar Company, has climbed up in the world and been transferred to Pahokee.

Inspector Irons has been appointed from Jacksonville and assigned to the McWilliams job.

Mr. W. T. Efting—with a long E—is another new man on the work in Clewiston. He and his lady spent the past week-end with Mrs. Efting's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Mitchell, in West Palm Beach.

One day last week Hoomes Rich was called to the Clewiston office and Dame Rumor had it that he was to inspect sand for the concrete work, whereupon Pop remarked that he was evidently not only a civil but a sieve-all engineer, which is pretty awful. Dame Rumor was about as right as usual, for Hoomes has been assigned to the Canal Point hurricane structure.

Pop, by the way, has been spending several days lately checking and inspecting steel as it comes in for the reinforcing of the concrete structures. That gives me a great excuse to trot around the country with him. Bill wanted to know what he'd been stealing that he should be put off steel work. Honestly, I can't do a thing with my family.

Coming into Clewiston about once a week, my first sight of the McWilliams Job is always a pleasure. There is something about the neatnesss, the order, the efficiency of their work that is very satisfying. Perhaps if they strike hard digging after a while the work will not go so fast, but they do seem to have a plan and a system about their work which get results.

And if you have not made a trip down past the warehouse to Gayle MacFadden's hurricane gate, by all means do so. It is worth going to see, particularly if you can find Gayle not too busy to explain what is going on and to picture for you the big mass of concrete that will sit on top of those 1,500 or so pilings now being driven.

Phil Y. Cason is working with the field forces under Connolly Nall out of Pahokee office. Engineer who used to attend the, Indiantown dances when Phil and his wife were running the hotel there will not soon forget the gay times they had. In fact, I thought until I met him down town the other day that he was twins!

The only topic of conversation in Clewiston now is the endless one of the perhaps and may be government houses. I couldn't get a single fact concerning them pinned down at headquarters, but I did see the plans drawn some time ago in the draughting room, and I tell you they were honeys. Mrs. Digges drew the original plans, for five and six room houses, excellently arranged and most attractive. Did you know that Mrs. Digges is an architect of decided ability? I wish she would arrange an exhibition of her drawings for us some day—believe me, they are beautiful and so deftly done that they look like etchings.

To give Mr. Broadfoot his rightful title, it is Construction Supervisor, and he went to South Bay instead of Belle Glade, and his feet belie his name.

Mrs. Leslie C. Miller is moving to Tampa temporarily. My informant told me the move was to escape an avaricious landlady, and that's a good big word, so I repeat it verbatim.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Lawler have house guests from Maine, Miss Elizabeth Lawler and Miss Phillips. This weather should keep them from being homesick. Mrs. Charles Trainor entertained on the 30th for the Lawler's guests. And did they saw nothing from Maine to Florida one half as lovely as the Trainor baby. Mrs. Trainor and Mrs. Gayle MacFadden—Beans, if you wish—spent Friday in West Palm Beach. And, folks, that interesting rumor about Beans is the bunk.

William R. Cesery, formerly on the Congaree, has gone to Jacksonville where he is working on the city engineering forces under my old friend Bill Sheddan. Mr. Cesery has a brother who is city councilman in Jacksonville, Q.E.D.

Lieutenant and Mrs. Hemenway are moving this week into the Hansen house in Clewiston. They are both called Jim or Jimmie and it is somewhat confusing to hear them relating something about the other. You are never quite sure whether it refers to the lieutenant or the missus. I met Mrs. Hemenway for the first time the other day, and quite as a personal observation I am here to state that she is as cordial and charming a person as you will meet in a month of Sundays.

Not through yet with news about the Trainors. Alexander Trainor, a nephew of Charlie, from Daytona Beach, is making his home with them and going to school in Clewiston. If the schools there close next month won't he get a break?

We have a new pup. You remember our Old Prince, who was gathered to his fathers some time ago, after living with us for nine years. The pup was christened Mack, but after enduring his company in the house for a couple of weeks I have re-named him Handy.

Finally and lastly, brethren and sistern, shake out the flivver and get around to see all the interesting new jobs that are starting all around us. This section of the country is teeming with action now and you'll be missing a lot if you don't take all of it in as the work progresses.

Hail and farewell,

Make Local Dealer Representative of U. S. Radio Contest

The National Farm Radio contest, of which Senator Capper, Chairman John Barton Payne, of the American Red Cross, and Harold A. Lafount, of the Federal Radio Commission, are judges, is represented locally by Olaf Boe of Pahokee, it was announced today.

The National Radio contest is unique, it is pointed out, because the writer of a single sentence may win the first prize of $1,000 cash. The purpose of the competition is to increase the nation's radio audience in homes which are without electric service. Perfection of the new air cell battery makes it possible now for residents of "unwired" homes to have all the advantages of modern reception such as are enjoyed by city dwellers with their all-electric sets.

Local residents entering the National Farm Radio contest have only to write, in a sentence or a letter, what features of an air cell receiver appeal to them most. Full information enabling them to write about the air cell is on hand at Boe's Automotive Service. A total of $6,750 is offered in prizes, and those who do not win the first prize will have a chance to get one of 382 other cash awards, from $250 down to $5. The closing date of the contest is February 20.—Adv.

JANET GAYNOR TEAMED AGAIN WITH BAXTER

Janet Gaynor and Warner Baxter are to be seen in their newest film on Sunday when "Paddy, The Next Best Thing," the latest from the studios of Fox Film opens at the Everglades Theatre for an engagement of two days. The two stars were last seen together in "Daddy Long Legs" and their success was so great that they were again assigned to complement each other.

Her thirteenth characterization for Fox, "Paddy," the madcap Irish lass, offers Janet Gaynor something absolutely new. Paddy's greatest asset is at the same time her worst liability. For she possesses the uncanny faculty of enslaving the affection of those with whom she comes into contact. It is an asset because it smooths the rough spots of life—a liability because it makes her an utter stranger to discipline.

Miss Gaynor has what is reported as her strongest role to date. For in addition to her well-known wistfulness she is here required to display her newly-found spirit. She is a rogue—and she is irresistibly charming. As the man who brings her down to earth and convinces her of his love, Warner Baxter is said to be in his most popular element. He is suave, handsome and the gentlest of lovers.
